2. July Peanut Butter & Jelly Drive

Thousands of Valley children go without a healthy snack many of us take for granted – a peanut butter and jelly sandwich. It's a simple treat that can do so much for a child while encouraging a healthy lifestyle.

During the month of July, help thousands of Valley children make healthy choices through the 12 News Peanut Butter and Jelly Drive.

By donating at the registers of Bashas' and Food City stores, you can bring a smile to children's faces all over the Valley

From July 1 – 31, peanut butter and jelly icons are for sale at the registers of Valley Bashas' and Food City Stores; jelly icons are $1, and peanut butter icons are $5.

One hundred percent of all donations will benefit Valley Boys & Girls Clubs.

3. Account established in wake of explosion and fire at Native American Service Center

Desert Schools Federal Credit Union has established an account for the public to make financial donations in the wake of an explosion and fire that damaged part of the sixth floor of the Native American Community Service Center headquarters.

The building, located at 4520 N. Central Avenue across the street from Central High School in Phoenix is co-owned by the Phoenix Indian Center, Native American Connections and Native American Community Health Center, three non-profit agencies that target services to Native Americans.

The fire occurred a week ago on the roof, which houses two compressors. Center officials say there was an explosion leading to the fire. No injuries were reported.

Two years ago, the three oldest Native American non-profits in the Valley created a unique partnership to purchase the 85,000 square foot building to serve as a one-stop Native American business, cultural and social services center for at-risk urban families, elders, youth, and individuals.

Native American Connections, Inc., Native American Community Health Center, Inc. and Phoenix Indian Center, Inc. formed an LLC, which owns and operates the facility. The combined agencies are asking for the public's help in restoring social services to the Valley's Native families by visiting a Desert Schools branch to make a donation to the Phoenix Indian Center Account.

8. Diversity Leadership Alliance Workshop - July 16th

YOU are invited to attend the July DLA workshop.

DATE: Wednesday, July 16, 2008

TIME: 8:00 am to Noon

LOCATION: University of Phoenix - Phoenix Hohokam Campus - Conference rooms 101-102

4635 East Elwood Street

Phoenix, AZ 85040

NOTE: Please use Map Quest for directions.

Workshop: "Cultural Do's and Don'ts"

When working with diverse colleagues, sometimes people are unsure about the right words to say or questions to ask for fear of offending someone. Anyone who works or interacts with people from diverse backgrounds, has a diverse leader/manager, or manages a diverse team can benefit from this workshop. A panel of diverse individuals will help participants better understand and communicate more effectively with people from all walks of life - striving to build an inclusive work environment.

Goal: Increase participants' awareness of the proper way to address, ask questions, and engage managers, colleagues, and co-workers to achieve the desired results.

By the end of the session, participants will:

- Gain insight about what is considered offensive to people from diverse cultural backgrounds
- Understand the differences between the need to know and the right to know
- Recognize the effects of mindless comments and stereotyping in the workplace
- Understand the emotional and business cost of "unintentional biases"

Seating is limited. Please register at the NEW www.diversityleadershipalliance.org website and reserve your seat today NO CHARGE for registration and no shows will be charged $50.

9. American Indian Chamber of Commerce Luncheon - July 18th

Friday, July 18, 2008
11:30am - 1:00pm

Casino Arizona, Eagle Buffet Conference Room
McKellips 101, east exit off of the 101

Guest speaker: Gina Marie Scarpa - Managing Partner, NABI

With NABI entering its 6th year and officially sanctioned as an NCAA certified event, the momentum doesn't seem to stop with the largest Native American basketball tournament of its kind. Focused on high school players from around the U.S. and Canada, NABI has been a trailblazer; recruiting supporters and partners that include Tribes, NIKE, University of Phoenix, the Phoenix Suns, the Phoenix Mercury, and many more. In the end, young Native American participants realize their potential for a bright and positive future. With the success of NABI comes endless hours and energy to put on such an event. Gina Marie will share her story about building one of the most notable Native American sports-oriented organizations in the country, the importance of finding those strategic partners who share a common vision, and how good market branding can lead to more great things!

The NABI Championship Game will take place on Saturday, July 26 at the U.S. Airways Center. Tickets for the game are available at ticketmaster.com or at the venue. TWO NABI gift packages will be up for grabs as door prizes at the luncheon (this will include tickets to the game!)

Price: $18 members, $21 non-members, $25 Walk-ins. To RSVP simply email your Name, Title, and Organization to info@aiccaz.org or call 602.254.1952

Payments must be made by day of event. All "No Show" reservations will be invoiced.
